Wisconsin is requiring “safe and sound” practices of its residents, businesses and institutions. CHRYSPAC is “an essential business service”, is complying with these practices and has implemented protocols advised by the Center for Disease Control, the World Health Organization as well as state and local health authorities for the protection our employees, customers and suppliers.

CHRYSPAC supports the supply chains of many Wisconsin manufacturers including military defense contractors, an essential business service under the Governor’s safe and sound edict. We will continue to provide our normal level of service as long as requested by our customers and permitted by public health authorities.

The COVID-19 virus is having a perilous impact upon our lives. Before it approaches a scale that it exceeds the resources of our health care system, the government is asking for help from businesses. In response, many companies are modifying operations to manufacture special products and services to assist. CHRYSPAC, too, is offering assistance.

If your company is among those looking to become part of this effort and you are making changes in equipment and processes for the undertaking, CHRYSPAC invites you to consider our services should you need outside support. If you are currently a customer or used our services in the past, you are familiar with our ability to rapidly train our employees to skillfully execute customized projects.

Our safety protocols require avoiding unnecessary face-to-face meetings and substituting email, phone and video means of communication as alternatives. Pickup and delivery personnel are being restricted to a small area inside our plant in order to maintain the “social distance” recommended by health experts. Non-essential admin staff is working remotely, and we have implemented other cleaning procedures to maintain a safe work environment. Hopefully, any inconveniences will be short term, and we appreciate your continued understanding in the meantime.

We are working in a rapidly changing social and business environment. As it continues to evolve, we will let you know if our situation changes. If you have any questions, comments or requests, please contact us at \(414\) 744-8550 or info@chryspac.com. Thank you and be safe.
